

North American Elk Breeders Association's
February Fling
February 12th, 2010
Marshfield, WI
Holiday Inn Convention Center

NAEBA would like to invite all elk enthusiasts to come join us in an entertaining and informative day. In continuing with last years theme of teaming up with a state association to hold an event that is accessible as well as affordable, NAEBA has joined forces with The Wisconsin Commercial Deer and Elk Farmers Association and Whitetails of Wisconsin. In working together it allows all members the best opportunity to learn or exchange new ideas, socialize, and make new friends. The benefit of consolidating our different events into one weekend flows both ways. NAEBA gains having a solid local base that makes holding an event for a national organization easier. The state associations see an increase in participation as well as fund raising revenue generated by NAEBA's members that attend from outside the state. These joint efforts truly are a win-win for all parties involved.

A BIG THANKS goes out to WCDEFA and WOW for making this joint venture possible!
